Mr. Sean Naylor is a highly acclaimed journalist who has been a dedicated observer of military operations for over two decades, including coverage of the Afghan Mujahideen's war against the Soviets and American military operations in Somalia, Haiti, Bosnia, Afghanistan, and Iraq.

In May of 2002, he was named one of the 22 "unsung" influential print reporters in Washington by the American Journalism Review and has been presented with the White House Correspondents' Association's prestigious Edgar A. Poe Award for his 2005 book "Not a Good Day to Die" which describes his first-hand account and subsequent scholarly research from his time as an embedded journalist during Operation Anaconda in Afghanistan.

In 2015, his book "Relentless Strike: The Secret History of Joint Special Operations Command" was published.

 Mr. Naylor will also be appearing in Manhattan on Thursday, March 2nd.*
